RUSSIAN STEAMER IN BATTLE WITH SUBMARINE

(By Associated Press)
An unsuccessful attack by a German submarine on an armed Russian steamer at the entrance of Kola Inlet in the Arctic was made on May 10, according to the commander of the steamer which arrived today at an American port. Nine shots were fired from the gun of the U-boat, none of which were hits, and the ice floes prevented the submarine launching any torpedoes.

The captain said that his gunners fired two shots at the submarine but neither hit. He reported that the entrance to Kola bay and inlet was mined extensively by the Germans.

The police stopped a bit of excitement on Monday night which had been planned and fell flat.

G. A. R. OFFICERS ADDRESS PORTSMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL

On Tuesday forenoon the usual patriotic exercises were conducted at the Portsmouth High School at which time addresses were delivered by Commander M. H. Bell and Patriotic Instructor James A. Doolittle of Storer Post. The exercises were held in Assembly hall and included music by the orchestra and singing by the pupils.

Mr. Doolittle said in part:

"Today the doors are ajar that admit us to the halls of memory, on whose walls are hung the pictures, painted on life's canvas in the years long since passed into Eternity. Pictures of sacrifice, sorrow, suffering, weary marches, humiliating defeats, and other scenes, before which we draw the curtain that hides from view the Gethsemane, into which so many a brave soul entered. The souls that through the gates of tragedy passed to the reward of sacrificial lives.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend. Thus passed into the land of peace, these in whose honor we meet today.

"This is a day, rich in its tender and sacred memories, a day when we leave behind the cares of everyday life, to draw from a glorious past, lessons that we trust may serve to aid us in this hour of our country's need. As these men whose memory we revere consecrated their lives to a high and noble purpose, so today let us renew our vows of loyalty and devotion to our country, the land which today is the hope of the world.

"Through travail and suffering, our liberties were made our inheritance, these through consecrated lives, these liberties were perpetuated by the men we honor today.

"Let the generation of today prove worthy of these great blessings that have come down to us through the efforts of those whose elbow touch we feel no more, as we march on to the Eternal camping ground, where we trust we shall meet those comrades gone on before, and 'Joyfully sweet will the meeting be.'

"Today we are not unmindful of the work that was done by the women of the war time, the ones that bore the heaviest burden of all, the mothers, the wives, sisters, and sweethearts. Who can conceive the agony of mind of these who saw their loved ones depart on a high and glorious mission, yet one fraught with tragic possibilities? And then came the days, months, and years of suspense, so hard to bear.

"And then, all too often, came the sad announcement that there was one less to meet on earth—yet one more jewel in Heaven's crown. And who can tell except those who suffered this experience, of the heartache, the loneliness, of those bereft of loved ones.

"And today all over the civilized world, women are doing a noble and heroic work. Words fail to express our admiration for those brave women, who at the risk of life, have responded with alacrity to the call of duty in foreign lands.

"And with unselfish devotion, today are doing the work of the good Samaritan in the spirit of one who has said, 'Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye did it unto me.'

NOVEL METHOD OF FIGHTING SUBMARINES

(By Associated Press)
Rome, May 29.—One of the unusual methods adopted by the Italian navy department to fight the submarines is to equip a large number of specially constructed flat cars with light cannon and distribute them along the rail road lines that run near the sea. In some cases there fortresses on wheels cruise together made up in sections, with the 70 men at each section, all expert gunners housed in box cars that accompany the armored cars. On one of the cars of the section is a huge signal ladder where a lookout is stationed. This arm has proven effective in destroying submarines that venture close to shore.

FIXED IT UP FOR TODAY.

The Democratic City Committee met on Monday night and arranged for the several matters in connection with the special election today. No other business was transacted.

DEMOCRATS ARE CLAIMING CITY FOR SULLIVAN

Expect He Will Carry Four Wards---A Fair Sized Vote Will be Recorded---Weather Keeps Many Away.

Regardless of the inclement weather this city is getting out a good sized vote today in the special congressional election. The vote however, will fall behind that of the last city election by a good hundred or more. There is much speculation as to the result and the Democrats are claiming the city. They say Sullivan will win in every ward except ward 2 and that the vote there will be close. The Republicans expect a big majority in ward 2 and say that Burroughs will lead in wards 1 and 4. They will say nothing about what ward 3 is doing. The Democrats appear to have something that leads them to believe that ward 5 will give Sullivan 35 majority. The total vote is expected to be counted not later than 7:30. Ward 1 with a total vote of nearly 700, will probably cast 500 or more, 300 of which were checked off at noon.

Ward 2 officers expect to get between 700 and 800 out of the total 10,500. Nine hundred and fifty voters were the total at the last election. The moderator had marked off nearly 600 at noon. This ward appears to have more activity than any other. Ward 3 Democrats claim about 150 majority for Sullivan. Two hundred and fifty had voted at 1 o'clock. The total vote of the ward is 400. Ward 4 is not as lively today as usual and the interest there seems to be lacking on both sides. The voting list there carries 389 and 189 had voted at the noon hour. The ward officers do not look for more than 250 as a total vote. Ward 5, like ward 4, was extra quiet and a little over half of the total may be brought out. One hundred and twenty votes had been checked off at 1 p. m. The total vote of the ward is 339.

London, May 28.—Princess Mary, the 20-year-old daughter of King George is to be provided with a small official household immediately following the conclusion of peace. This will be on a very moderate scale and will be chosen by Queen Mary. Up to the present Princess Mary has not attended any official functions except with her mother, and ladies in waiting have not so far been necessary.

It is with this idea in mind that the National Collegiate Athletic association and the Graduate Athletic Managers association have decided to meet and discuss plans for revival of college sports under restrictions in keeping with the war spirit of the times. Several suggestions have been advanced which may be incorporated in the temporary rules of eligibility code to govern sport while war prevails.

These include the suspension of both the one year and the freshman rule, thus permitting any regularly enrolled student to compete as a member of a varsity team as well as holding away of competition; coaching; admission fees and the appointment of the same to worthy causes, such as the Red Cross. It is conceded that under these suggested changes the standard might be lowered in certain lines of sport, such as the highly developed football, played by certain of the large university elevens. To offset this it is pointed out, however, that more students would try for the various athletic combinations and training would be adopted on a broader scale.

The proposal to play Sunday baseball in the big league parks of the eastern cities for the benefit of the military or Red Cross funds is likely to be strongly opposed by the authorities of both Philadelphia and Boston. Officers of the city government in both communities have indicated that it would require a special legislative act which would be likely to meet considerable opposition.

AMBASSADOR PREVENTED INTERNMENTS BY TURKS

(By Associated Press) London, May 28.—How the influence of the American ambassador in Constantinople prevented the Turkish authorities from interning the leading British clergymen there was related here the other day by a British official who succeeded in getting out of the Ottoman empire. It happened before the United States entered the war.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of Freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of Freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

BURROUGHS IS CONFIDENT OF WINNING ELECTION

Sullivan Also Certain Although He Does Not Mention Figures on the Eve of the Election to Fill Vacancy in Congress

(By Associated Press)

Manchester, May 28.—The campaign in the 1st New Hampshire Congressional district for the special election to fill the seat in Congress made vacant by the death of the late Cyrus A. Salway closed tonight, and in a speech here the Hon. Sherman B. Burroughs, Republican candidate, declared that he would be elected by a majority of more than 1800. At Republican headquarters, it was declared that Burroughs had 100 cities and towns solid.

Patrick Henry Sullivan, Democratic candidate for Congress, while refusing to make any statement as to the figures, stated his conviction that he would be elected.

The speakers who closed the campaign for the Republicans were Congressman Warren G. Harding of Ohio and Representative McCormick of Chicago. Senator Robert L. Owen and former Congressman Raymond B. Stevens of this state, were the last of the Democratic spell-binders.

"WHERE IS ROOSEVELT?" FRENCH SOLDIERS ARE ASKING

Paris, May 28.—Ex-Premier Clemenceau, in an open letter to President Wilson printed in his paper, L'Homme Français, appeals to the President to send over Col. Roosevelt and "his companions."

"In invaded France at the present hour there is a name which represents by a know not what force of intuition the locality of America's intervention—it is that of Roosevelt. You are too much a philosopher not to know that great popular leaders have influenced men out of all proportion to their own real value, by the intangible atmosphere of legend which, with or without their assistance, has formed around them."

"Whatever may be the reasons and without attempting to analyze the phenomenon I yield to the imperative need to tell you that the name of Roosevelt has in our country at this time a legendary power. It would be an enormous error in my view to neglect a force which everything urges us to make use of as soon as possible."

"We have learned that the first American unit has arrived at the front, and with what zest Generals and privates saluted the noble starred banner. However, you should know, Mr. President, that more than one stout elevated voice said to his comrade in an astonished voice: 'That where is Roosevelt? I don't see him!'"

FOOD SURVEY BILL PASSED BY HOUSE WITHOUT DIVISION

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 28.—The Administration food survey bill, the first of the national bills for conservation and control of foodstuffs, was passed this afternoon by the House of Representatives without the formality of a recorded vote. The bill carries an appropriation of $14,770,000 and provides for the immediate investigation into the food supply, conditions and the legislation necessary to stimulate production. The bill was passed virtually as recommended by the house committee.

A slender bill, now under discussion in the Senate, will likely be passed by that body on Wednesday.

The work of investigation will be under the direction of Herbert C. Hoover, slated for the post of food dictator as soon as Congress passes the necessary legislation which will follow this bill. In the bill passed today an amendment by Miss Rankin of Montana, ordering the commission to utilize women investigators in so far as practicable, was adopted.

SHIPOWNERS NEVER ADMIT THAT THEY MAKE MONEY

London, May 28.—"Shipowners are like farmers, they never admit that they make money," says a correspondent of the economist, and gives instances of the huge amounts derived from losses paid by the War Risk Office. I came across a typical example during the war loan campaign. A ship owning tramp steamers appeared as a subscriber of over 1,700,000 to the war loan.

I asked 'how they came to possess so much loan money; the explanation was given that three steamers had been torpedoed. Further inquiries revealed the startling fact that three steamers, worth about 1.5 per cent before the war, had been insured at the inflated war values of 1.10 per cent at the time Government rate of two guineas per cent, and had been sent to the bottom. Hence what the market calls a very profitable 'sale' and 1,700,000 in the war loan stock."

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA ARE CRITICAL

(By Associated Press)

Petrograd, May 28.—The industrial crisis in Russia grows worse with each passing day of the war. Mr. Shingareff of the cabinet announced today that unless the war is brought to a speedy close all manufacturing in the nation would have to be discontinued. The soldiers and workmen committee are united on the question of continuing the war but the industrial conditions have not yet been adjusted and the coalition cabinet seems powerless to bring the difficulty to a satisfactory settlement.

Conditions are so bad that the workmen in the factories are in complete control of the plants and no work can be undertaken by the owners unless the workers are consulted and agree to the terms of the contracts. The official declared that this could not continue and the manufacturers could no longer operate their businesses under this condition.

JUNIORS LOSE IN DEBATE TO THE FRESHMEN

In the inter-class debate held at the Portsmouth High School on Monday evening the Freshmen team defeated the Juniors in a spirited contest, in protest to government ownership of American railroads. The Freshmen took the negative side in the debate. "Resolved," "That the railroads of the United States should be owned and operated by the government," the Juniors maintaining the affirmative.

The speakers for the winning team were Eugene Seward, Morris Stewart and Miss Heene Woods, with Henry Kenney alternating for Mr. Stewart in the rebuttal. The Junior team was Miss Isadore Lane, Miss Frances Upham and Warren Daniel.

Owing to the fact that several other social events were in progress the attendance was not so large as usual. The debate was interesting and the speakers presented their opinions on the important question ably and with conviction, showing much careful preparation. Miss Alice Midman of the High School staff, Principle Chester Howe of the Whipple school and Mr. Elsworth Thayer, acted as judges. Headmaster Dunfield presided.

PROPOSED TO ESTABLISH LOCAL BOARDS

(By Associated Press)

Swartha, Mo., May 28.—Dealing with the question of employment after the war, E. Ruth Jackson, chairman of the National Alliance of Employers and Employed, said it was proposed to establish local boards, two thirds of the representation at least to consist of employers and employed in equal proportions, to act in conjunction with a central statutory board with similar representation. He also advocated the re-employment of men after the war in their old berths, and said if, in some cases, they had lost part of their skill, they must be helped to regain it.

SCIENTISTS WILL SOLVE SUBMARINES

(By Associated Press)

New York, May 28.—Professor Michael I. He declared that the German submarine campaign was nearly at an end and the work of making the U-boat useless would be the result of the American scientists' study of the problem.

tall at the conference was based on his observations and studies of conditions in England in the training camps and the work of the association among the American troops who but lately returned from the Mexican border. He took as his subjects "In Thirty Camps With Tommy Atkins," and "Five Weeks With Kitchener's Mob."

Dr. Eddy spent all of last summer in company with his brother, Sherwood Eddy, in the British training camps in a series of evangelistic meetings and he has come to know the British soldier as is given few the opportunity to know. In his address he brought a picture of the conditions both in the training camps and on the battle fronts that was inspiring with its patriotism and enlightening to the layman who has no idea of the game which the recruit in training and the soldier in the field must face, morally and socially. It is these evils which the Y. M. C. A. intends to combat and their efforts in the past have been successful in the greatest degree, according to Dr. Eddy, and he has had probably more experience in this line of work than has any other person. That he was eloquent to a high degree is shown by the hearty response of his audience in his appeal for funds.

Contributions and pledges of funds range all the way from $200, $200, $150, $100, and in smaller amounts down to $10.00, a large number being in the neighborhood of $25 and $50, contributing Manager Patton of the hotel, in addition to a large sum personally donated, announced that every employee of the hotel was pledged to subscribe the sum of $1.00 to the fund, and the waiters who served dinner also responded to the call for funds, turning over to the committee their net earnings for the night which includes their salaries. Remarks were made by Frederick M. Sise, president of the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce, pledging the support of the Portsmouth business men to the work of the Y. M. C. A. The speakers were introduced by Mayor Ladd as presiding officer.

Several men interested in the Y. M. C. A. were present at the dinner including Percy D. Foster, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for the State, Mr. Estey, secretary of the army association of the Y. M. MINE SWEEPING IS DANGEROUS AND EXCITING

Paris, May 28.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Sweeping the English Channel for mines laid by German submarines is one of the most exciting and dangerous occupations of the war, according to the stories told by men participating in that work.

"Mine sweepers doubtless are the only vessels of the navy on which life belts are worn from the time of leaving port until the return," writes Jacques Marsillac, from aboard a mine sweeper on service in the Channel.

"The task of a group of mine sweepers composed of seven sloops furnished in echelon, two by two, connected by steel cables, with the flag boat leading, is to clear a channel about half a mile wide and fifty miles long of the mines laid there by German submarines," he adds. "These under water mine layers carry from fifteen to twenty-four mines, according to the type, and they frequently lay them quite close together, so close, in fact, that it has become an axiom in the mine-hunting craft that where one is found another is sure to turn up."

"The wireless operator on the flag boat of the group, who has served on four mine sweepers that have been blown up in the service had scarcely flashed to the boats of the group that a mine had been signalled when a black mass adrift appeared on the crest of the waves ahead of our boat. A second later it disappeared. We steered in its direction, every man on deck searching intently for its reappearance. The few minutes in which a sighted mine disappears are full of infinitely disagreeable tension on board a mine sweeper."

"And if we touch it?" Marsillac asked of the wireless operator.

"Then it is lost," he replied meaning that it would be fatal.

"On this occasion the mines were friendly to us," wrote Marsillac, "for the mine reappeared fifty yards away and, for some reason that no one could explain, remained in sight until the gunners could get action upon it. Round, black, it shone like a seal's back, showing from time to time its four mortal needles, contact with which means destruction. The boat sheered off and the gunners, using a special rifle ball at about 200 yards under immense difficulties resulting from the rolling of the boat, fired fifty shots without touching one of the fatal needles. They succeeded, however, in piercing the mine which filled with water and sank to the bottom of the sea."

"The two leading sloops raised a half red flag, which means that they have found a mine. At once began a manoeuvre intended to cut the cable holding it; suddenly a steel cable that connects each sloop and which is called the 'sweep' struck the mine. It must have come in contact with one of the deadly needles, and broke the vital of acid inside which sets off the discharge, for an immense column of water shot straight into the air to a height of 100 yards, completely masking from each other the two sloops between which the explosion occurred. Then the sloops went on in search of other mines, and thus continues every day this dangerous and heroic work of opening the path for merchant ships through the high seas."

GERMANY IS PLANNING TO ANNEX BALTIC

(By Associated Press)

French Front, May 28.—What the Frenchmen regard as proof that the German government has planned to annex the Baltic provinces of Russia was found in a German official pamphlet marked "strictly confidential," and found in a house at Noyan after the German evacuation of that place. Both German government officials and German newspapers recently have denied there was any such plan but the discovery of the pamphlet is held here as evidence to the contrary.

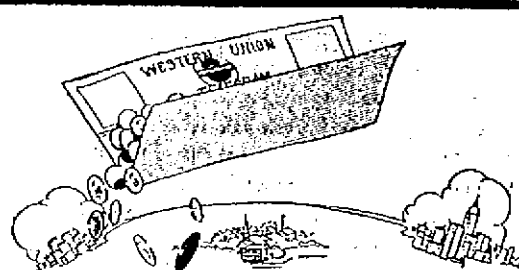

The conclusions summed up in the pamphlet are:

"The culture of the Russian Baltic provinces is German and has been so ever since the first German colony migrated there. The culture of the Lithuanians and Estonians is also German and the Baltic provinces are German. German of all the Russian frontier territories. The Russian influence has manifested itself there only as an element of destruction and decomposition. It has remained purely superficial and has been maintained only by the presence of Russian officials. Should these disappear the Russian influence will go with them."

"The country is almost entirely Protestant and the Lithuanians and Estonians are Protestants exactly like the Germans. Only a feeble fraction besides the Russian officials follow the Greek Orthodox faith. This Greek-Orthodox fraction, whose conversion was affected by artifice and force, has a tendency toward Protestantism and would certainly embrace it if it possessed liberty of conscience."

"The three provinces are a single and unique field of civilization; they should form one unit. The three provinces for a geographic unity. Before our immediate neighbors we could maintain ourselves there much more easily than an overseas colony."

"The country is thinly populated and thus offers considerable opportunity for immigration. It is almost entirely as extensive as Wurttemberg and Prussia together. Its excess of agricultural production is so considerable that it would make up for the deficit in

SLACKER HAS NOT A CHANCE AFTER JUNE 5

Washington, May 28.—One hundred million slacks will be on the lookout for "slackers."

Under a plan completed today by the provost marshal general's office every citizen of the nation is made virtually a policeman to ferret out non-registering names.

Announcements are being sent to sheriffs of more than 3300 counties that it is the duty of every citizen to give information of persons failing to register or registering falsely, for selective service. After the informant is in the hands of the sheriff the local authorities will do the rest. Severe penalty is imposed for evasion of registration.

As no added argument to the civic police force the provost marshal general pointed out that every non-registering person throws the burden of service upon another man. Officials believe this alone will result in sufficient incentive to the people to turn up evaders.

In some states governors have already ordered all police officers to stop men of military age on the streets after registration day and demand to see their registration certificate.

Officials believe the severe penalty without alternative of a fine will draw every man to the registration booths. To nip the aspirations of would-be slackers, different government "war agencies" are announcing their intention to employ no men of conscription age.

Since the selective service law went into effect Washington has been overrun with men subject to service who have suddenly developed a great longing to work for the government. Many of them would just as soon work for nothing, letting their parents foot the bills for bodily upkeep. The government, however, will have none of them in the Red Cross organization, food administration department and other newly created agencies under the war regime.

CALLS PUBLIC SERVICE TO INVESTIGATE THE CUT

The Boston and Maine has taken away from the people of the district which it serves the use of 381 trains.

This is a most extraordinary cut in service, justified it is claimed, by the condition of freight congestion on account of the war. Perhaps it is so justified, and the Public Service Commission should inquire very carefully into this explanation. We could imagine some railroads on which such an explanation might be accepted without hesitation, but we are surprised that the Boston and Maine territory is of an industrial character which could threaten the Boston and Maine with freight congestion on account of the war.

Let us hope that the railroad commission will examine very carefully into the facts.—Boston American.

Portsmouth has already protested against the removal of one train and it is likely that similar protests will reach the management concerning other trains of the Portland division.

By a vote of 114 to 1, receipts from educational entertainments were excluded from the ten per cent amusement tax which is included in the war revenue bill as it passed the House of Representatives last week.

Life with the moving picture stars is just one reel after another. It will be remembered that some time ago Clara Kimball Young sued her husband for divorce and won. When the verdict of the jury had passed on into court room history her husband passed the remark that if it had not been for him Clara K. would not have reached the pinnacle of success, but that after she had made a name for herself she became connected with another big financier in the business and her activities led to the divorce proceedings. Now we have another reel in her life. This particular financier who was the cause of the matrimonial troubles finds himself the defendant in a suit brought by the afore mentioned Clara K. It seems that he offered to form a company with Miss Young at the head, and in addition to a salary of $1,000 a week, she was to receive $419,000 worth of the stock of the company, which is capitalized at $1,000,000. Miss Young alleges that this man has taken advantage of her inexperience in business matters and she demands an accounting so that she may have her share of the profits of the company. Miss Young declares that her first three plays have netted the company over $200,000 to date and that all she has received is her salary of $1,000 a week.

ENGLISH SCHOOL
TEACHERS
MAKE PROTEST

London, May 29.—School teachers in London and other parts of England, through their respective organizations, have protested against the decision of the municipal authorities to employ clergymen and non-conformist ministers as teachers in the elementary schools.

As preliminary to the decision of the authorities, the board of education a few months ago cancelled the regulation which prohibited the employment of clergy and ministers of the staffs of schools. The change is to be made for the period of the war as a means, it is said, of remedying the serious shortage of teachers.

The protest of the teachers is not based on economic or professional reasons but is made against the clergy and ministers of military age. The teachers have called the ministers and clergy "professional conscientious objectors against military service."

NAVY NOTES

Honor Medals for Marines.

Medals of honor for gallantry in action during the disturbance in Haiti in 1915 have been awarded to three officers and three enlisted men in the Marine Corps by Secretary Daniels. Lieut.-Col. Snedley D. Butler, First Sergt. Ross L. Lums and Corporal Samuel Gross were decorated for leading an attack which resulted in the surrender of Ft. Riviere. The others honored were: Capt. William P. Upshur, Capt. Edward A. Ostermann and Gunnery Sergeant, Daniel Daly, who with only 35 enlisted men under them, dispersed a force of about 400 Cacos near Ft. Liberté.

Will Try to Correct It.

In reply to a letter recently addressed to Surg.-Gen. Banister of the navy regarding reported unsanitary conditions at the naval station at Commonwealth pier, Boston, Senator Weeks has been informed by the surgeon-general that the matter had been brought to the attention of Admiral Palmer, chief of the bureau of navigation, who has charge of housing regulations. Surg.-Gen. Banister further stated that he had urged measures several months ago which would have prevented the alleged unhealthy conditions now existing at the naval recruiting stations. He further added: "Every effort is being made by the bureau of navigation, to correct these conditions, but it is one of those things that we have to contend with when war comes suddenly."

Recruiting Held Up.

There will be no more recruiting on battleships at Boston. The Virginia is the only ship at the navy yard that has been taking on recruits recently, and yesterday the officers received orders from Washington to discontinue the work. The Georgia stopped recruiting several weeks ago.

Since Jan. 1 the Virginia has recruited 1900 men—a record for the navy. Most of these recruits are being trained on the ship.

The new order is prompted largely by the necessity for secrecy regarding the disposition of war vessels. Until recently all applicants went aboard the Virginia for examination. Now nobody is allowed to enter the yard unless he has specific business there, and even intending recruits are not allowed on the ships. This order applies to all ships at all navy yards.

Bowles says, "Put them to work."

Scores of expert navigators and engineers who are required for the merchant marine are being kept in unnecessary idleness by the navy department, pending organization of the U. S. naval reserve, according to Admiral Francis T. Bowles, resigned. He complained yesterday that these men either should be given active service or allowed to resume their former positions. More than 40 such men are quartered in or near Boston.

"It has come to my knowledge," said Chairman Bowles last night, "that men who have enlisted as officers in the naval reserve, who in private life are officers in the merchant marine, are being kept in virtual idleness, or, at least, they are not at present performing the best service they are capable of for their country. As I understand it they report every month at 5 o'clock and are kept around, not doing much of anything until the last mail comes from Washington, when they are dismissed for the day. Many of these men are officers in the merchant marine, which is sadly undermined. If the navy cannot use these men, they should be allowed to go back to their ships. This situation is detrimental to the interest of the United States and it should be changed at once."

Safety First Move

A nation wide safety first campaign to minimize the risk in navy yards, arsenals and other government establishments where the industrial hazard is great has been launched by the Federal Employees Compensation Commission, co-operating with the National Safety Council of Engineers.

DISTURBING MAINE PEOPLE

Speaking of the speed on the state highways we can see no particular reason why motorcycles should be allowed to tear along at a mile a minute, either.—Portland Express.

Nor can we see any reason considering the fact that the automobile exhaust cutout is now under the ban of the law largely because of the noise involved in its use, why motorcycles should be allowed operate without some sort of muffler that would tend to muffle the noise. As now operated the motorcycle, when it is feeling well, is about the most nerve torturing object on the civic horizon. A procession of them, such as is frequently seen and heard on the Portsmouth-Portland road gives what must be a pretty good imitation of a machine gun squad going into action on some battlefield.—Biddeford Journal.

EX-SPEAKER J. G. CANNON ON SITUATION IN THIS DISTRICT

The Hon. Joseph G. Cannon, veteran of more than forty years service in congress, many years speaker of the house, and a man known far and wide in this country as one of its great men and statesmen, who was a long-time and close personal friend of the late Congressman Cyrus Adams Sullyway, has written a most interesting and timely letter to Mr. W. H. Topping, who for twenty years was the late congressman's secretary. Speaker Cannon's letter points out the need and the necessity and the importance of electing a Republican successor to Mr. Sullyway, and will be read with interest by the people of this district. It is as follows:

House of Representatives, U. S.

Washington, D. C.

May 22, 1917.

W. H. Topping, Manchester, N. H.

Dear Mr. Topping—I have your letter and regret that I am unable to accept your invitation to speak at Manchester. If I could, I would go not only to Manchester, but to all parts of the First District of New Hampshire and urge the election of a Republican successor to the late Mr. Sullyway. I would do this because I believe New Hampshire ought to send to the house at this time a man holding the same views on the fundamental principles of the Republican party as did Mr. Sullyway, and who will vote to sustain those principles.

The people of New Hampshire should not be misled by the appeal to support the president during the war, because Republicans in both house and senate are supporting the president's war policies quite as loyally and courageously as are any of the Democrats. Some of the "wild" men whom the president criticized on March 1 were Democratic leaders on whom he thought he had a right to rely as party associates as well as from patriotic principles. It was a Republican representative who took charge of the army bill and successfully piloted it through the house in the form which the president desired, but which was bitterly assailed by Democratic leaders.

So there is no call for Republicans in New Hampshire to sacrifice their party principles and help elect a Democrat to the house to uphold the hands of the president while the country is engaged in war. We must look to the future, for many Democrats admit that after the war it will be necessary to apply the protection policy of the Republican party to save our industries from destructive competition, and those who have long believed in that policy and had experience in writing it into law ought to be here to legislate. The successor to Mr. Sullyway should be a Republican, that New Hampshire may be represented by one who believes in that policy, and this election should also give assurance to the country that after next year Senator Gallagher will have a colleague who will work in complete harmony with him and other New England senators to secure proper recognition of that important manufacturing section in the revenue legislation which must follow the war.

Under the present revenue legislation, which New England has so little part in enacting, that little group of states pays more than one dollar per capita in individual income taxes, while the South Atlantic states pay only 25 cents per capita in such taxes, and the West South Central states pay only 10 cents per capita in income taxes. These are some of the reasons why I hope that the Republicans of the First District of New Hampshire will return a Republican successor to Mr. Sullyway, whose long and distinguished service in the house gave distinction to his state. I regret that my public duties here prevent my acceptance of your invitation to speak at Manchester. With best wishes for success, I am Very truly yours, J. G. CANNON.

CAN ENLISTED MEN BE SERVED LIQUOR BY PRIVATE CLUBS?

A New Phase in the Liquor Law Is Puzzling.

A new and interesting phase of the perplexing army liquor law came to light in Boston Monday when the authorities, liquor dealers and officers and enlisted men tried to determine whether men in uniform could be legally served with intoxicating drinks in a private club.

The soldiers themselves say they should be, according to the terms of the law. The authorities admit frankly they don't know. And the club officers and dealers profess equal ignorance.

"The whole question seems to resolve itself in the question of 'serving' and 'selling.'" That Uncle Sam's soldiers may not be sold liquor is undisputed. Whether they may be legally "served" is another question.

"We enforce the law, but we don't interpret it," was the answer to the question given at the office of the licensing board.

"This is a new complication. Don't put it up to us. It isn't our problem, it belongs to the province of the federal government."

THE VICTORY

It was a clear and cool day in the early fall of the year 1917, at Portsmouth, N. H. The men were at work and the women were busy performing their daily household duties. In all the schools the pupils were studying diligently. Nothing was expected, so the people worked with a feeling of safety.

Suddenly a speck was seen in the heavens, and it seemed to be nearing the harbor. The group of men watched it until they could see what it was. Then a messenger was sent through the city to warn the people. As he ran from place to place, he cried out, "A German Zeppelin, a German Zeppelin!" Hearing this shout, the people left their work and ran into the streets. The school children jumped from their seats and ran to join the crowd, which was already very large.

Soon the Zeppelin was directly over the harbor and the Germans began to prepare an attack on the city. An airship, armed with many guns and as many men as were on the enemy's airship, ascended. So an encounter between the two airships began. The people watched with amazement, as the airship rose above the high buildings.

At first it looked as if the Germans would win, but when a shot was fired, and the German airship was seen falling, the Zeppelin fell from his seat, the victory was for Portsmouth.

TIME TO ACT

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness. Profit by People's Experiences.

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular kidney action, headaches and dizzy spells are frequent symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pass off for a time but generally return with greater intensity. Don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up their use until the desired results are obtained. Good work in Portsmouth proves the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

Mrs. Alfred Terrio, 145 Sparhawk St., Portsmouth, says: "From heavy lifting and straining my back became very painful, just through my kidneys. This caused me to feel exhausted much of the time. It was awfully hard for me to bend over at all. My kidneys were also irregular in action. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved this trouble. I always use them now when a slight attack shows itself."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Terrio had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ALL AVAILABLE SUPPLIES BEING SENT TO FRANCE

Owing to the tremendous pressure on military hospitals in France to care for the thousands of soldiers wounded in the violent fighting now in progress around Arras and in Champagne, all available surgical dressing supplies that can be spared are being sent to France from the workrooms of the New York county chapter of the American Red Cross.

While this special needs hasty and perhaps for the entire war the department of foreign aid American military relief of the large workroom maintained by the chapter at 411 Fifth avenue have been merged. Thus the output of the 1,200 and more workers there, amounting to more than 45,000 dressings a week, will be pooled for distribution at the discretion of the central committee of the Red Cross. Where gifts for designated countries are received these will continue to be applied as before.

How serious the situation is, is shown by this bulletin that has just been received by the American Red Cross:

"For lack of sufficient dressings, the wounds of soldiers on the battlefields of France are now being stopped in many cases with newspapers. Rather than bleed to death on the battlefield, men run the terrible risk of gangrene and other infection."

Twenty-two tons of supplies for the French and Belgian hospitals are included in a Red Cross shipment that left an American port a few days ago. Included in this shipment are 65,000 cans of condensed milk being sent for the relief of undernourished children in the devastated regions of France.

Another Red Cross shipment soon to go forward, is an entire ambulance unit given by the American Cotton Waste Exchange of Boston. This unit consists of 23 automobile ambulances, kitchen trailer wagons that can be attached to the cars, and the necessary supply trucks. The entire unit will be manned by Americans now abroad.

Juice of Lemons! How to Make Skin White and Beautiful!

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sallowness, freckles and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smoothen rough, red hands.

RAILROAD BUILDING IN DARKNESS

Petrograd, May 29.—One of the most fascinating corners of railroad engineering in the building of the great Petrograd railroad from Petrograd to Hymn, lay, Russia's one free port. Built by torchlight in the darkness of Arctic winter, parts of it were three times lost when warm winds turned the frozen tundras on which it was laid into bottomless morasses of mud and water.

The railroad is 500 miles long from Kola to Petrograd and part of it is a three track line. The Russians learned from the paralysis of the Trans-Siberian line that a one-track road is almost useless when called upon for express service. Two tracks are used for loaded cars going away from Kola. The third track is for empties coming back.

Three races, Russians, Austrians and Mongols, helped build the line. Hundreds, if not thousands, died from cold, hunger and disease, but now the line is through to Kola, and its three tracks are taking every day 300 carloads from the mountains of supplies that have accumulated while the road was in the process of construction.

First, Russians were employed as railroad builders. They had the easiest part of the line to build before it reached the tundras. Then they were all called away to the front and Austrian prisoners were sent to take their places.

The prisoners were guarded by regiments of half-wild Tartars and Mongols. Neither the Austrians or their guards knew anything about railroad building, and they were so few experts in the region that it was impossible for them to oversee the work properly. The Austrians laid the ties on ice and the frozen ground; and one construction train got through to Kola bay. Then a thaw came and the train could not get back. There was no track. Great long stretches of rail had disappeared. The Austrians were set to work again, better supervised this time, and they had at least a semblance of roadbed when the rails got south of Kola. But the railroad had been laid again by torchlight and when a thaw came a large part of it slumped beneath the tracks. After the Russians took a leaf from the history of the great American transcontinental railways.

They herded the Austrians back to the prison camps and brought across the Trans-Siberian railway thousands of Chinese Coolies and Mongols to take their places.

By this time so much indignation over the ghastly failures on the rail-way had arisen that the Russian officials were stirred out of their slouch. They soon got down to hard pan and the railroad went through to Kola.

PROF' CLUB ENTHUSIASTIC OVER SPUDS

Durham, N. H., May 27.—It is doubtful whether any more enthusiastic potato club can be found in the country than that of the New Hampshire State College faculty, self-styled the "Five-tato-club," which has planted two acres of land on the college farm to spuds, under the leadership of "Pa" Taylor, head of the Department of Agriculture. They buried with the care fully cut tubers about $35 worth of fertilizer.

The club includes 22 faculty members, who have pooled their interests in the yield. They will share in the potato production in accordance with estimates made of their individual requirements. The share units are fixed at five bushels. Each will pay the cost of seedling and cultivation in proportion to the number of shares he is assigned. The club men will require a yield of 230 bushels, the equivalent of 66 shares, to avert the necessity of buying potatoes before the 1918 crop is harvested. They are counting, however, on at least 400 bushels from their patch.

HURRAH! RINGLING DAY ALMOST HERE

Big Circus and Great Spectacle Occupy Five Trains Crammed With Wonder.

The big event for which the youngsters and grownups have been impatiently waiting is drawing near, for Ringling Brothers' circus is to exhibit afternoon and night in Manchester Friday, June 15.

Expectancy never ran so high before and it is likely that this district will send a large delegation to feed the elephants. Unusual interest centers around the gigantic spectacle, "Cinderella," with which the famous showmen are this season opening their wonderful main tent program. "Cinderella" is probably the best loved of all fairy tales and to see it produced with more than 1000 persons, hundreds of dancing girls and gorgeous pageants, indeed gives promise of making "childhood's golden dreams come true." In the same great tent, will come the marvelous circus numbers in which 400 men and women performers, scores of trained animals and a galaxy of special features are introduced. The majority of the acts are entirely new to America, the Ringling Bros. having secured the pick of all European performers who have been obliged to seek engagements in this country. The all-new street parade will take place show day morning.

Warmer weather is promised for Memorial Day but one day earlier would not work any hardship on most of us.

Thank goodness that the tax rate for property is no higher than that of last year as it affects every individual whether a property owner or not.

GOETHALS AND DENT SETTLE DIFFERENCES

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 28.—The differences between Major General Goethals, manager of the Shipping board corporation and Chairman Dent of the Federal Shipping board, as to the merits of wooden and steel ships for the purpose of fighting the German submarine menace is apparently at an end and has been brought to a successful close, according to statements issued this evening. General Goethals will superintend the construction of both wooden and steel ships as planned by the shipping board in their first plans, which idea the army officer has held as useless and wasteful since accepting the management of the constructive program.

RUSSIANS RENEW ACTIVITY AGAINST TEUTONIC ALLIES

(By Associated Press)

Aside from the Austrian-Italian campaign in the southeast the activity of the armies in the European wars is almost at a standstill, the official dispatches containing no reports of great moment. In the Italian campaigns the Italian troops have continued their advances with great success although Vienna continues to refuse to admit the gains claimed by their enemies.

On the eastern front the Russians have opened up a heavy bombardment of their artillery against the Germans and Austrians indicating an awakening from the lethargy into which they had apparently sunk some weeks ago, lulled by the German offers of separate peace. The Russian attacks are apparently ready to continue the war without abatement on the side of the Entente allies.

On the Carso plateau the Italian forces have crossed the Tiverno river on Monday and captured the village of San Giovanni, two miles from Dulino. North of Jamino further successes were gained by the Italians on Monday but these are denied by Vienna.

Great aerial activity by the British and French on the Western Front is announced in the official reports the British reporting extensive engagements against German airplanes claiming the destruction of twelve German war machines and the driving down of ten others. Three British airplanes failed to return to their base. The Berlin war office reports the destruction of twelve British airplanes.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 28.—The regulations governing the drafting of the first increment of 500,000 men for the war army under the national conscription bill are completed, according to Provost Marshal General Crowder. He states that there will be no exemptions from draft until the full quota from each registration district has been drawn and those filing pleas for exemption will be considered only if their names are drawn for the draft. probable that the old jury wheel plan will be used in the selection of the names after the registration is completed. General Crowder again urged all males between the ages of 21 and 31 to be certain to register whether they were married or single and if married whether they had dependents without other means of support or not. He said that married men would not necessarily be exempt from the draft and only when their dependents were without other means of provision would the exemption be considered. Provided, they were fit for military duty in other respects.

INDUSTRIAL SURVEY.

If the survey of manufacturing plants in the state, to ascertain the number of farmers available for farm work brings forth results similar to the survey in former Governor Rolland H. Spaulding's plant in North Rochester, it will not develop a large field of availability for outside work, but it will demonstrate that the ex-farmers are alive to the needs of themselves and the state and will go far toward allaying fears that farm workers in industrial employment are not using their knowledge. The survey of the Spaulding plant showed more than 50 per cent of the men employed already have gardens well under way.

On the day the survey was made this week, there were 192 employees working. Seventy-five of these were women and of the 117 men, 61 announced that they have gardens started. Several of them on rather an ambitious scale. These gardens are on land owned by the men themselves or on land owned by the Spaulding company. The former governor also says that at the company's Tonawanda plant there are six acres of their company's land under cultivation. It is a question whether Chairman Huntley N. Spaulding of the food production committee gets his inspiration for his efficient work from his employees or whether they get theirs from him, but the fact remains that all of the Spaulding clan are doing some effective work.

The committee on industrial survey of which Prof. F. H. Dixon of Hanover is chairman, is gathering comprehensive information relative to abandoned plants and unemployed factories in New Hampshire, which might be available for expansion of going concerns, should the need arise. The most serious problem the committee faces is the ascertainment of what New Hampshire manufacturers can do in the way of furnishing goods for the government outside the normal product.

FISHERMEN NEEDED.

Boston, May 28.—Although at the present time there is more opportunity than ever before for fishermen to make money, there is a scarcity of fishermen, said Manager William K. Beardsley, of the New England Fish Exchange today.

"The industry has not yet recovered from the recent strike, which drove many able and skilled fishermen to seek other means of livelihood. Many vessels are lying idle in port, which should be at sea, striving to add to the nation's food supply."

"I do not think that all the fishermen who quit work because of the strike understand that the labor trouble has been ended. The scarcity of good fishermen is bound to be felt, not only at the present time, but in the future. The salt fishing vessels which should already be on their way to the Grand Banks, are still in dock at Gloucester, awaiting crews. And this despite the fact that $200 and found per trip, as well as prizes for the biggest catches, is offered for experienced dory handliners."

"Experienced fishermen cannot be as valuable anywhere else as in the fisheries. Their services there are both patriotic and useful. In returning to their vessels, they will be rallying around their country's flag."

ANTI-DRAFT PLACARDS STIR LYNN

POSTERS OPPOSING CONSCRIPTION SECRETLY PLACED ABOUT THE CITY—POLICE AND CITIZENS TEAR THEM ALL DOWN.

Lynn, Mass., May 28.—Citizens of Lynn were amazed to behold today, pasted up in conspicuous places, in fact, within 50 feet of the police station, and near all recruiting offices and armories, posters bearing the black headed, history of conscription in America, "No Conscription." It contained a plea and England, a blunt demand to resist such procedure, and was signed "The Workers." It was dated "Portland, Me., May, 1917." The police believe, however, that it was printed in Lynn, as it has appeared nowhere else, and they are proceeding on that theory.

The bill concludes with these words: "We oppose conscription because we are internationalists and anti-imperialists and opposed to all wars waged by capitalist government. We will fight for what we choose to fight for; we will never fight simply because we are ordered to fight. We will resist conscription by every means in our power and we will sustain those who, for similar reasons, refuse to be conscripted. Don't register. Organize meetings. Resist conscription."

Introducing the question the clerk stated:

"The danger of conscripting America for outwards any good that might come from war."

About 100 of the posters have been found and torn down by police and citizens.

Arrest Five in Anti-Draft Case
Detroit, Mich., May 28.—Accused of treason in connection with an alleged nation-wide anti-conscription conspiracy, five Detroiters were arrested today by federal agents.

The specific offense for which they were held was distribution of handbills bearing the caption "Kill the draft" and announcing a Socialist mass meeting to this end for June 3.

The prisoners are:
Herman Eberly, Max Wadman, Philip Elvay, John Feller and Paul Tacker.
